Bangkok, here we go!

Bangkok is the capital of Thailand. With a population of over 8 million people, Bangkok can be described as exotic, chaotic, busy, eclectic and full of energy. There are a million things to do in the city, so take a look at this brief guide and start planning your trip!

Getting there and around

There are two airports serving the city, Suvamabhumi Airport and Don Muang Airport. Both of them are not far from the city centre. The main train station, Hualamphong, will easily connect you with the rest of the country. To move around the city, you can use public buses, taxis or three-wheeled tuc-tucs, but avoid renting your own car because traffic is very congested and chaotic.

Things to do

Bangkok is known as the "Venice of the East". Take a boat along its many water canals and visit ancient temples and street markets. Thai culture and architecture will amaze you at Wat Arun, the Grand Palace and Wat Parkeaw. For a more adventurous experience, visit the Red Light District.

Things to eat

Thai cuisine is a real adventure. Prices range from high-end expensive restaurants to affordable street food vendors. You can enjoy traditional curries, Tom Yum soup, sweet and sour rice or wok noodles. If you like new flavors, you can even learn how to make these delicacies in a cookery course. Tired of so much exoticism? You can always try one of the many fine international restaurants.

Things to buy

Do you want to take a piece of Thailand back home? Silk clothes, gems and jewels are good choices. Big malls and airports are practical options, but you can visit the local markets for better prices and a more authentic shopping experience.
